Introduction

The Management Interface, a powerful and intuitive control site, gives you control over the content you decide to share with your clientele. Our dedicated team continuously works on updating the control site to reflect your changing business needs and to provide you with the best possible service.

SB Player

The Stingray Box (SB) Player is a powerful multimedia system that helps you create an engaging in-store experience.

The SB Player is preloaded with the audio/video content you signed up for. From the SB Player's online control site (AKA Management Interface) you have the full access to configure it's content. For more information on the SB player, refer to the SB Player Installation Guide.

Management Interface

The Management Interface is the command center for accessing your SB Player.

To access the Management Interface, from a web browser¹, go to cs.business.stingray.com and enter your registered email and password.
